

Ayushman Bharat strengthens healthcare access: Eligible beneficiaries encouraged to generate Ayushman Cards

Sri Vijaya Puram, July 6
The Ayushman Bharat - Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojana (AB-PMJAY), launched in the Andaman & Nicobar Islands on 23rd September, 2018, continues to strengthen healthcare access by expanding health insurance coverage including additional categories of beneficiaries under the flagship health assurance scheme of the Government of India. The scheme provides cashless health coverage of up to Rs 5 lakh per family per year for secondary and tertiary care hospitalization at empanelled Government and private hospitals across the country.

In the A&N Islands, nearly 89,000 beneficiaries have been identified as eligible under the Socio-Economic Caste Census (SECC) and National Food Security Act (NFSA - PHH & AAY) categories. To facilitate easy identification of eligible beneficiaries, the Health Department has developed a dedicated module on the DHS Portal (dhs.andamannicobar.gov.in), enabling pending beneficiaries under the SECC and NFSA categories to verify their eligibility online. Eligible beneficiaries may generate their Ayushman Bharat PM-JAY Card through the Ayushman App available on the Google Play Store, seek assistance from Common Service Centres (CSCs), or visit the nearest Government health institution or the AB-PMJAY Help Desk at GB Pant Hospital.

Beneficiaries belonging to the SECC and NFSA categories are required to carry their Aadhaar Card and Ration Card for card generation. The Government of India has further expanded the scope of AB-PMJAY to extend healthcare coverage to additional beneficiary groups. Under the expanded provisions, ASHA Workers, (Contd. on last page)

Great Nicobar Island Project-The Strategic and Environmental Dimensions

Before receiving clearance, the project underwent a detailed Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) process, encompassing screening, scoping, public consultation and multi-stage expert appraisal

When it comes to the Great Nicobar Island project, two key aspects that dominate the discourse are the strategic significance of the location and the environmental impact, other than the creation of a deep-water port and associated infrastructure. Since Independence, India's defence forces have operated out of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands. More significantly, since 2001, there has been an Integrated Tri-Services Command. The environmental dimension is perhaps the most debated aspect of the Great Nicobar Island project. To assuage any apprehensions, the Government of India has put out comprehensive Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) about the project through the Press Information Bureau (PIB) on May 01, 2026. Great Nicobar is one of the islands in the Andaman and Nicobar Island chain, with an area of 910 sq. km. The Hon'ble Lieutenant Governor of Andaman and Nicobar Islands, who is also the Vice-Chairman of the Islands Development Agency highlighted in a recent opinion column in The Indian Express: "The total project area of 166.10 sq km is only about 2 per cent of the total area of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands, of which 130.75 sq. km, approximately 1.82 per cent of the total forest area of the islands, is proposed for diversion". The Great Nicobar Island project has incorporated a comprehensive environmental protection framework aimed at balancing large-scale development with rigorous ecological conservation. Before receiving clearance, the project underwent a detailed Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) process under the EIA Notification, 2006, encompassing screening, scoping, public consultation and multi-stage expert appraisal. Clearance was additionally obtained under the ICRZ Notification, 2019, reflecting the island's sensitive coastal ecology. The resultant (Contd. on last page)

Department of Consumer Affairs amends Legal Metrology Rules for verification of High-Capacity Weighing Instruments

Amendment reduces compliance burden, lowers verification costs and promotes Ease of Doing Business

New Delhi, July 6 (PIB)
In a significant Ease of Doing Business (EoDB) initiative, the Department of Consumer Affairs has amended the Legal Metrology (General) Rules, 2011 to substantially reduce the requirement of standard weights for verification of high-capacity weighing instruments by introducing a scientific, repeatability-based verification approach. The earlier provisions required that, while verifying weighing instruments having a maximum capacity of one tonne and above, standard weights of at least one tonne or 50 per cent of the maximum capacity of the instrument, whichever was greater, had to be used before substitution with constant loads. This requirement often resulted in significant logistical challenges, transportation costs and operational difficulties for industries and weighbridge operators. Under the revised provisions, the requirement has been rationalised. Based on the successful conduct of the repeatability test, the mandatory quantity of standard weights required before substitution with constant loads has been reduced from 50 per cent of the maximum capacity to only one-fifth (20 per cent) of the maximum capacity, while maintaining the prescribed standards of verification accuracy and reliability. Major Benefits of the Reform ◆ Significant reduction in compliance burden for industries, warehouses, logistics operators and weighbridge owners.

◆ Lower transportation and handling costs associated with movement of large quantities of standard weights.
◆ Faster verification of high-capacity weighing instruments, reducing operational downtime.

◆ Improved efficiency of Legal Metrology verification activities without compromising accuracy or consumer protection.
◆ Promotion of Ease of Doing Business through simplified, science-based regulatory requirements.
◆ Better utilisation of verification resources by Government authorities. The reform is based on internationally accepted metrological principles, wherein the (Contd. on last page) environmental clearance is subject to 42 specific compliance conditions covering air and water quality, noise control, waste management, marine ecology, human health and disaster management, underpinned by a robust Environmental Management Plan (EMP) addressing both the construction and operational phases of the project. Several of India's premier scientific institutions were engaged in environmental studies and assessments prior to the clearance.

The Zoological Survey of India (ZSI), Wildlife Institute of India (WII), Salim Ali Centre for Ornithology and Natural History (SACON) and the Indian Institute of Science (IISc) each conducted independent evaluations, with ZSI concluding that the project can proceed with appropriate safeguards in place. To ensure continuous oversight during implementation, three independent monitoring committees have been constituted covering pollution control, biodiversity conservation and the welfare of the Shompen and Nicobarese tribal communities, respectively. On forest conservation, critically, 65.99 sq. km within the project footprint will remain designated as green zones with no tree felling, ensuring a meaningful ecological buffer. The project also incorporates dedicated disaster preparedness measures, given the island's location in a seismically sensitive and cyclone-prone zone. A comprehensive risk assessment covering tsunamis, earthquakes, cyclones and industrial hazards has been conducted, with a vulnerability and disaster management plan prepared accordingly. The project's hybrid gas-solar power system further enhances operational resilience while reducing carbon emissions relative to the diesel-dependent energy infrastructure currently prevalent across the Andaman and Nicobar Islands. Taken together, these measures reflect a deliberate effort to ensure that the Great Nicobar Island project's strategic and economic imperatives do not come at the cost of the island's exceptional ecological heritage.

The National Green Tribunal has accorded clearance to the project, while directing the agencies involved in executing the project to "ensure full and strict compliance with the environmental conditions".

India, in the Preamble to its Constitution has enshrined "to secure to all its citizens JUSTICE, social, economic and political; EQUALITY of status and of opportunity". The Great Nicobar Island project has strategic and economic ramifications for India since it aims to safeguard a future that is explicitly outlined in the Constitution as it determines its path towards 100 years of independence. As a thriving democracy, India will always have informed debates, discussions and deliberations since the Indian Constitution guarantees this. It is necessary to strike a delicate balance between environmental protection and development/strategic consequences. Ultimately, policymakers must balance environmental stewardship with India's long-term economic and national security imperatives. (Source: <https://stratnewsglobal.com/>)
