MESSAGE

International Women's Day is celebrated on 8th March every year, when women of all continents, often divided by national boundaries and by ethnic, linguistic, cultural, economic and political differences come together to celebrate the event. They can look back, with justifiable pride, to a tradition that represents at least nine decades of struggle for equality, justice, peace and development. It is the story of ordinary women as makers of history; rooted in the centuries-old struggle to participate in society on an equal footing with men. Many women face discrimination at various stages of their lives. Their survival, access to nutrition and good health, access to good education and livelihood are sometimes hampered by obstacles. Moreover, safety of women continues to be a matter of concern with increasing number of violence cases against them. In a country like ours the International Women's Day, therefore, holds special significance.

I am happy to note that the women of these Islands are far ahead in every field as compared to their counterparts. They are duly respected, recognized and play a major role in the decision making processes at all levels. Much more still needs to be addressed to make women equal citizens both in the public and private domains. The International Women's Day thus serves as a reminder of how much we have achieved and how much more still needs to be done.

I am happy that Directorate of Social Welfare has taken a series of innovative like 'Shakti Samanveh Shivir' for providing women empowerment under 'Beti Bachao Beti Padhao' and the newly announced 'Mahila Shakti' Scheme.

I also appreciate that various Government Departments, NGOs and other Agencies are organizing the International Women's Day. I wish their endeavours all success.

SAI budget re-arranged not curtailed: Sports Ministry

New Delhi, Mar 7
The Sports Ministry insisted that it has not curtailed the funding for the Sports Authority of India (SAI) in the union budget, claiming that the money has merely been re-arranged. The Sports Ministry last month received a hike of Rs 258.2 crore in the union budget for 2018-19. It was allocated a total of Rs 2196.36 crore, compared to 1938.16 crore earmarked last year. However, SAI was allocated Rs 429.56 crore, a cut of Rs 66.17 crore compared to last year's fund allocation of Rs 495.73 crore. In response to a query in Rajya Sabha on Wednesday, Sports Minister Col Rajyavardhan Singh Rathore, in a written reply, said it was a wrong perception that SAI's funding has been slashed. "SAI has been entrusted to implement a number of the twelve vertical of the Khelo India Scheme being implemented by this ministry. The funds earmarked for such verticals will be placed at the disposal of SAI for implementing them. "Thus, effectively, there has not been any curtailment of funds for SAI, though there has been rearrangement of resources between the Ministry and the SAI," the reply stated. Col Rathore further said that SAI is also being provided financial assistance under other schemes of the Ministry like the Scheme for Assistance to National Sports Federations (NSFs), and the National Sports Development Fund (NSDF) to undertake activities.

Nidahas Trophy 2018: Under-pressure India face Bangladesh

Colombo, Mar 7
India's inexperienced cricket team will have to recover quickly from the eye-opening loss to Sri Lanka and lift its game by a few notches against an unpredictable Bangladesh in the Nidahas Twenty20 Trophy, on Thursday. In the absence of the rested Jasprit Bumrah and Bhuvneshwar Kumar, the likes of Shardul Thakur and Jaydev Unadkat need to up their game in the unforgiving death overs. Thakur leaked as many as 27 runs in his first over against Sri Lanka but bounced back well to concede only three in his next attempt. Facing Bangladesh in the shortest format has always been challenging for India and it will be no different tomorrow. Mahmudullah will continue to lead the side in absence of the injured Shakib Al Hasan, who also missed the T20 and Test series against Sri Lanka at home. Having lost the Tests, T20s and the ODI tri-series final (all to Sri Lanka), Bangladesh will be desperate to buck the recent trend. Senior batsman Tamin Iqbal said the team is not having the best of times at the moment but is confident of a turnaround. "It will be a different challenge here for me and also our team. We know that we are not in the best of form as a team but this can happen as I have said it's normal for a batsman and a bowler, we go through good form and bad patches. So, as a team it is quite normal for that to happen," said Iqbal. "I think in some cases we are panicking a lot and I feel we need to curb that since, as a team, you have to accept that when things are not going well, we should not be panicking and we need to go back to the basics," he added. Teams (from):

India: Rohit Sharma (captain), Shikhar Dhawan (vice-captain), KL Rahul, Suresh Raina, Manish Pandey, Dinesh Karthik (wicket-keeper), Deepak Hooda, Washington Sundar, Yuzvendra Chahal, Axar Patel, Vijay Shankar, Shardul Thakur, Jaydev Unadkat, Mohammad Siraj and Rishabh Pant.
Bangladesh: Mahmudullah (captain), Tamin Iqbal, Soumya Sarkar, Imrul Kayes, Mushfiqur Rahim (wicket-keeper), Sabbir Rahman, Mustafizur Rahman, Rubel Hossain, Taskin Ahmed, Abu Hider, Abu Jayed, Anful Haque, Nazmul Islam, Nurul Hasan, Mehidy Hasan, Liton Das.

Celebrating the Spirit of Women Entrepreneurs

Embracing Entrepreneurship

Journey of a young mushroom cultivator

Prof. John Tyler Bonner has rightly put it "the sudden appearance of mushrooms after a summer rain is one of the more impressive spectacles of the plant world". The sight of colourful mushroom not only excites a child but it brings out a world of emotion even in grownups too. DT brings you the story of a young woman entrepreneur who cultivates mushroom and imparts training to many SHGs.

It's shrooming yellow, pink and white oyster mushrooms in the lab of Smti. Nitu Sindhu Shenoy, a young entrepreneur who is into mushroom cultivation since 2016. Hailing from Haryana, Nitu has been residing here in the Islands since 1998, juggling between states. She holds a doctorate degree in Agriculture Extension besides B.Sc & M.Sc in Agriculture. Her love for mushroom began while pursuing B.Sc and after her marriage in 2016, Nitu turned her passion into profession and started cultivating oyster mushrooms. "oyster mushrooms are very much suitable for cultivation here in the Islands besides other varieties like Shiitake, Shimeji, pink, yellow, king oyster, black ear, paddy straw, milky white, blue oyster, white oyster, grey and black oyster can be grown as they are summer mushroom and suitable for tropical climate", said the young entrepreneur.

Following her dream, Nitu visited CIARI and met Dr. Shaktivel, who not only provided her with mushroom seeds but also guided her. Soon after that she started mushroom cultivation on a trial basis by renovating her store house to create the required ambience for the cultivation. After five days, her joy knew no bounds, as she saw the oyster mushrooms sprouting from the bags. Nitu also expressed her gratitude to the Secretary, Agriculture, Shri Ramesh

Verma, who showed keen interest in her hobby and encouraged her in every way.

Nitu opined that mushrooms make a good option for additional income and farmers can grow them as they can be harvested within five days and are rich in protein and antioxidant. She also advised that people should not randomly pick mushroom, if they cannot distinguish between poisonous and edible ones. "Poisonous mushroom have a ring on the stem and the cap will have small dots. Mushrooms should be bought from reliable source as there is no antidote for mushroom poisoning and the safest way to eat mushroom is to purchase from amongst the lab cultivated ones", says Nitu.

Sharing tips on mushroom cultivation Nitu said there are 8 strains (varieties) of mushroom which can be grown here in the Islands and they make a good source of income. "If you grow 100 bags of mushroom, you can get 100 kgs of mushroom in 1 1/2 month". Nitu also provides training to SHGs through cooperative bank and collaborates with CIARI and KVK in conducting training programmes for women. Though she cultivates mushroom in small scale, due to lack of manpower, she disclosed that on an average, she gets 6 to 10 kg yield per month.

Nitu is also planning to organize training programmes for interested mushroom cultivators soon. She disclosed that it was her first participation in the Andaman Bazaar that got her closer to people and her work. Nitu wishes to interact and share her knowledge with farmers. She is also planning to set up fruit nursery on trail basis besides floriculture, in the long run and expressed hope that it would inspire many others to take up Agri entrepreneurship. Happiness on wheels

'Happy Belly' a hit among foodies

As has rightly been said, the way to a person's heart is through his stomach. Any person will be happy, if they are provided with good and hygienic food. The desire to provide quality food to people has always been in the mind of this young woman entrepreneur, Smti. Yadwinder Kaur, a native of Punjab who has been to various parts of the country, being the wife of an Army Officer.

Yadwinder, a promising entrepreneur who has embarked on her entrepreneurial journey in December 2017 here in the Islands where her husband is currently posted shared her inspiring story while speaking to the 'Daily Telegrams' Reporter recently. "Whatever you do, if you put your soul and heart into it, no matter what field you belong to, it will eventually fructify" says Ms Kaur, an ardent believer in God.

Kaur disclosed that it was the programme titled 'Eat Street', aired on Discovery Channel which she and her husband used to watch for the past 9-10 years spurred the idea of providing hygienic food, and ultimately the thought of a 'mobile food truck' struck her. A mother of two, Kaur manages her work efficiently and pays equal attention to her children and husband at home. She believes not only in 'working hard' but 'working smart', something we must all strive to emulate.

Kaur, who holds a Masters in Microbiology, has worked as a Teacher, a Trainer and a Counselor Coordinator before she found her calling in 'Food' and thus 'Happy Belly' was born here in the Islands in December, 2017. "I had been into many other professions prior to starting this food truck. The desire to serve customers with good quality food and not compromising on hygiene propelled me to embark on this venture here in the Islands", says Kaur recalling her first visit to the Islands that took her to various tourists' spot and she realized that more quality food to the tourists should be offered here. 'Happy Belly', the first self contained mobile food truck in the Islands is equipped with all the necessary amenities, cash desk, serving counter and waste disposal facility. Kaur along with her dedicated team starts the day by 9 am where they ensure the foods are half done in the base kitchen itself. From 1 to 3 pm, they are engaged in maintenance and loading work and from 3 to 4 pm, the food truck starts rolling. To be able to survive long, Kaur believes in maintaining reputation and quality, which according to her is the most pre requisite for any entrepreneur. Happy Belly ensures that flavors are maintained and the customers are not deprived of authentic continental food, hence the ingredients are shipped from Delhi and Chennai and the chef is also from Delhi, says Kaur.

Kaur opines that mobile food truck has a bright future here in the Islands, as her first initiative witnessed an overwhelming response from Islanders as well as tourists. However, she remarked that people should swear by quality and hygiene, only then they can make a mark. Kaur also plans to start a similar food truck at Havelock and Neil in future. She also disclosed that new refreshments at affordable price will be added to the existing menus, so that every section of the society can afford good quality hygienic food, especially the youth. Presently, one can find 'Happy Belly' at Corbyn's Cove, near ASI, Science Centre and Joggers Park from 3 to 4 pm. If you want to make your belly happy, then, a visit to these locations will make your day, truly a 'Happy One'. (Interviewed by Mary Pee)
