surveillance measures should be strictly followed.

The Director, AH&VS, informed that vaccination against Classical Swine Fever had earlier been undertaken in Car Nicobar but was discontinued after the island remained free from reported cases for nearly two decades. In view of the present situation, an indent for 20,000 doses of CSF vaccine has been placed. A special vaccination drive will be undertaken immediately on receipt of the vaccine. Special vaccination teams will be deployed in different areas of Car Nicobar, and Tribal Captains have been requested to facilitate vaccination of eligible pigs in their villages.

As a preventive measure, movement of pigs and pig products to and from the island will remain restricted until the situation is brought under control. Pig owners are advised not to sell, transport or move sick or suspect pigs, pork or carcasses. Newly purchased pigs should not be mixed with the existing herd without veterinary advice. A second round of awareness campaigns will be taken up in all villages. The public advisory will be translated into the Nicobari language and widely circulated. Public announcements through a mobile vehicle will also be made across the island.

A Village-Level Task Force will be constituted in each village for coordinated monitoring and reporting. Tribal Captains have been requested to recheck and verify mortality figures, as a number of pigs in Car Nicobar are reared in forest areas and may not be immediately available for physical verification. The Department has been directed to ensure safe disposal of carcasses in consultation with Village Captains, and to arrange lime, bleaching powder and other disinfectants. Adequate stocks of medicines will be maintained for supportive treatment.

The meeting also underlined the need to protect the Nicobari pig, a registered indigenous breed of India, while implementing necessary disease-control measures.

Pig owners and villagers are requested to immediately report any pig showing high fever, loss of appetite, weakness, diarrhoea, skin discoloration, coughing or sudden death to the nearest veterinary personnel, maintain clean sheds, restrict unnecessary entry of visitors, and extend full cooperation to the vaccination and surveillance teams.
