Hon'ble Prime Minister interacts with students in the second episode of Pariksha Pe Charcha 2026

Students should reach out to industry professionals and understand how they work: Hon'ble PM

New Delhi, Feb. 9 (PIB)
 The Hon'ble Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi interacted with students today in continuation of 9th edition of Pariksha Pe Charcha (PPC) 2026. The Prime Minister had an informal interaction with Exam Warriors from Coimbatore, Raipur, Devmogra and Guwahati during the second episode of PPC 2026. Welcoming students to the special edition of 'Pariksha Pe Charcha', Shri Modi noted that this time the programme was held across different parts of the country. Starting off the Coimbatore edition, PM remarked that the energy and curiosity of Tamil Nadu's students had deeply impressed him. Greeting them with "Vanakkam," he engaged in light conversation. Students expressed their excitement, saying they couldn't believe their eyes when they saw him, expecting a dramatic entry but finding him simple, humble, and down to earth. One student shared that his arrival gave them goosebumps. Startups & PM's mantra to study

 The Prime Minister highlighted that for many years he has been interacting with 10th and 12th grade students through 'Pariksha Pe Charcha', emphasizing that it is a learning programme for him, not a teaching one, and invited students to share their thoughts. Responding to a student's query on startups, he remarked that the first focus should be on what one wants to do, whether innovation in technology or practical solutions like drones or electricity systems. He advised forming small teams with friends skilled in technology or finance. He highlighted that there is no age requirement for starting a venture, and even small startups can be impactful. He remarked that if there is genuine interest, it is a very good thing. He suggested visiting existing startups, preparing a project report, and presenting it honestly as a school project, which would encourage guidance and support. He concluded that gradually, valuable knowledge will be gained on how to proceed. Youth contribution to Viksit Bharat & Vocal for Local

 When asked about India becoming a developed nation by 2047, the Prime Minister expressed happiness that even young students share this dream. He cited Singapore's transformation from a fishing village, quoting Lee Kuan Yew's emphasis on adopting disciplined habits of developed nations. He remarked that small steps like not littering, following traffic rules, avoiding food wastage, and supporting local products contribute significantly to national progress. He stressed being "vocal for local" and choosing to celebrate events like weddings in India rather than abroad, underlining that every citizen's small actions collectively help build a developed India. Motivation or discipline?

 Hon'ble Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi, responding to a student's query on whether motivation or discipline is more important for success, remarked that both are essential in life. He explained that without discipline, inspiration alone is of little use, citing the example of a farmer who feels inspired by his neighbor's success but fails to prepare his field before the rains, leading to poor results. He highlighted that discipline is indispensable, while inspiration adds value like "gold with ornamentation," and without discipline, inspiration becomes a burden and creates despair. Rise of AI & its proper uses

 Addressing another question on Artificial Intelligence, the Hon'ble Prime Minister remarked that every era has faced concerns with new technologies, whether computers or mobile phones, but fear is unnecessary. He emphasized that technology must not become the master of human life, cautioning against becoming enslaved to devices. He stated firmly, "I will not become a slave," and advised

A&N Administration sanctions Rs. 4.19 Crore for vital road infrastructure in Nancowry; Move to benefit 1,300 residents

Sri Vijaya Puram, Feb. 9
 In a major boost to the "Inclusive Development" vision for the archipelago, the Andaman & Nicobar Administration has officially accorded administrative approval and expenditure sanction of Rs. 4.19 crore for the comprehensive upgrade of the rural road connecting Champin Jetty to Tapong village in the Nancowry group of islands.

The 4.68 km stretch is a vital lifeline for the local tribal community, serving as the primary link between the remote inland settlements and the island's maritime gateway. While the road was originally constructed in 2018, it has faced recurring challenges due to the region's intense monsoon cycles, leading to severe waterlogging and seasonal deterioration that frequently hindered vehicular movement. To ensure a permanent solution to these accessibility issues, the new project goes beyond simple resurfacing. The sanctioned works include:

 ♦ Construction of seven RCC (Reinforced Cement Concrete) culverts to manage natural water flow.
 ♦ Installation of 2,800 meters of dedicated side drains to prevent water stagnation.
 ♦ Engineering specifications designed to withstand the unique climatic challenges of the Nicobar district. The upgrade fulfills a long-standing demand from the local Tribal Council and residents. Once completed, the project will provide smooth, reliable, and safe vehicular access for approximately 1,300 residents. This enhanced connectivity is expected to significantly improve the delivery of essential services, including

Sri Vijaya Puram, Feb. 9
 The Department of Fisheries, A&N Administration has informed all fishermen, fishing boat owners and fisheries stakeholders that the Government of India has notified the "Sustainable Harnessing of Fisheries in the Exclusive Economic Zone of India Rules, 2025" with the objective of ensuring a transparent, sustainable and export-oriented framework for deep-sea fisheries. one-third of India's Exclusive Economic Zone (EEZ). The Exclusive Economic Zone (EEZ) extends up to 200 nautical miles from the coastline, where India has special rights for exploration, conservation and management of marine resources, including fisheries. that AI should be used for guidance and value addition, not as a substitute for learning. He noted that the nature of jobs will always evolve, just as transport shifted from bullock carts to airplanes, but life continues.

Resolution towards a Viksit Bharat

Students shared their emotions, saying they felt overwhelmed, honoured, and that the Prime Minister seemed like family more than a leader. Concluding his interaction with students in Coimbatore, Prime Minister Modi remarked that the youth of Coimbatore are highly aware of AI, startups, and future technologies, and affirmed that this reflects the youthful thinking of India, which is giving new strength to the resolve of a developed India by 2047.

PM's guide to travel & staying focussed

Greeting them with "Jai Johar," he asked about the food traditions and local delicacies. He then invited questions, responding to a query on vacation travel by advising students to first explore their own tehsil, district, and state before venturing further, stressing that tourism is most enjoyable when experienced as a student, traveling by train, carrying food, and learning from the diversity of India.

Balancing studies & sports

Addressing a student aspiring to balance sports and studies, Hon'ble Prime Minister remarked that education is essential not only for personal life but also for social life, and it must never be underestimated. He cautioned against the mistake of believing that excellence in sports alone eliminates the need for studies, while also clarifying that education alone is not everything. He emphasized that talent must be developed, and while playing is necessary to become a sports person, having play in life itself is equally important.

Protecting the environment

Hon'ble Prime Minister Modi, responding to a student's question on contributing to environmental protection, remarked that conserving natural resources must become part of our nature. He emphasized that small rules in daily life bring big change, citing the example of turning off water while brushing and using it only when needed. He shared an inspiring story of a teacher who collected oil cans from petrol pumps and asked children to bring leftover water from their homes in bottles, which was then used to water plants.

Leadership Insights

When asked what qualities he expects from the future generation as leaders, the Prime Minister remarked that the first quality is to be fearless. He advised that leadership begins when one decides to act without waiting for others, giving the example of picking up litter which inspires others to follow. He clarified that leadership is not about elections or speeches but about the ability to explain and convince others, stressing that true leaders first understand people before guiding them. Students expressed admiration, describing the experience as a dream, feeling lucky and honored to meet the Prime Minister.

Wrapping up the Raipur interaction, Prime Minister Modi remarked that exam preparation, stress, and expectations are recurring themes in 'Pariksha Pe Charcha', and the purpose of the programme is to allow youth to openly discuss these issues. Interacting with students in Devmogra, Gujarat, the Prime Minister asked about their background, lauded their artwork and also recognized some familiar faces from earlier meetings, appreciating their courage.

The right career path

On career choices, the Prime Minister advised that constantly changing aspirations confuses families, but it is natural to feel inspired by successful people. He stressed that one should not only look at their achievements but also at the effort and discipline behind them. He gave the example of a cricketer waking up at 4 a.m. to cycle to practice, remarking that dreams must be matched with hard work and routine. He said that true success makes its own noise, and when one becomes number one, the whole school, village, and community will recognize it.

Role of teachers & tribal youth

Hon'ble Prime Minister Modi, responding to a student's question on the role of teachers in his life, remarked that they played a very significant role. He recalled how his teacher encouraged him daily to visit the library, read the editorial line in The Times of India, write it down, and discuss it the next day, which instilled discipline and curiosity. He shared memories of Parmar Sir from his primary school days, who was insistent on physical fitness, teaching him yoga and mallakhamb, which helped him understand the importance of health even though he did not become a professional player. He emphasized that in the life of every great personality, two influences are always acknowledged—their mother and their teacher.

Hon'ble Prime Minister Modi remarked that the journey of Pariksha Pe Charcha reached the Ashtalakshmi region, the North East, with discussions held in Guwahati amidst the flowing Brahmaputra. He was welcomed with a traditional gamosa, noting that in Assam such a gesture is essential. Students expressed that his presence was calming and helped ease their anxiety.

Dealing with the pressure of comparison

Hon'ble Prime Minister Modi, responding to a student's concern about parental comparisons with siblings and friends, remarked that such situations should be approached positively. He explained that if parents praise a sibling's handwriting, the right response is to ask that sibling to teach, rather than feeling neglected. He emphasized that children should learn from the strengths of their brothers or sisters and tell parents, "You pointed out a good quality, now guide me on how to develop it." He advised that parents should avoid excessive praise of one child in front of others, as it can create imbalance. He highlighted that if someone close excels in something, one should silently consider them a guru, without telling them, and ask for guidance, which fosters equality and respect.

Believing in oneself

On the issue of stage fear and confidence, the Prime Minister explained that self-confidence comes from the two words "atma" and "vishwas," meaning faith in oneself. He remarked that those who trust themselves never fear, and they study situations carefully before acting. He recalled Swami Vivekananda's famous Chicago speech, noting that Vivekananda initially felt nervous but prayed to Maa Saraswati for strength, and when he began with "Sisters and Brothers of America," the audience applauded for minutes, which became a turning point. He emphasized that even great speakers and players face setbacks, citing Sachin Tendulkar's dismissals at zero, but they never lose confidence. He urged students to observe situations, accept challenges, and rely on their inner strength.

Concluding, the Prime Minister remarked that Pariksha Pe Charcha included not only exam discussions but also local music and Assam's tea, making it a memorable experience. He emphasized that exams are an opportunity, and healthy competition enhances preparation. He noted that while locations, students, and experiences varied, the purpose of every discussion remained the same—to listen, to understand, and to learn together—and extended his best wishes to all students.
