GREETINGS

On the auspicious occasion of Foundation Day of Andaman and Nicobar Islands on 1st November, 2023, I extend my warmest greetings and best wishes to the people of these Islands.

These Islands are a remarkable example of India's 'unity in diversity' and are often referred to as "Mini India". The people here have preserved their rich cultural heritage, which is a blend of traditions, beliefs, and ways of life brought from various parts of mainland India and the Indian subcontinent by their ancestors. This diverse culture, combined with the unique customs and traditions of indigenous tribes and settlers from different parts of mainland India, has created a vibrant Island culture. The history of these Islands dates back to 1858 during the British Raj when they were used as a penal colony. The Cellular Jail stands as a historic monument reminding us of our freedom struggle. Despite facing challenges such as the devastating Tsunami, the Islands have made remarkable progress and have become a prominent tourist destination in the 21st century. The resilience of the Islanders has turned these Islands into a paradise for all to admire and emulate.

On this special day, let us come together with a renewed sense of purpose, reaffirming our commitment to making our islands a better place for everyone. Let us look forward to a future filled with promise, progress, and prosperity for all residents of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

I wish each and every one of you a joyous Foundation Day celebration. May our islands continue to shine as a beacon of hope and a symbol of unity for generations to come.
