Reform of global institutions to be 'on-going' process: PM

New Delhi, Mar 13 Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi has said, reform of global institutions has to be an on-going process. Addressing the International Monetary Fund - IMF Conference in New Delhi on Saturday morning, Shri Modi said it must reflect changes in the global economy, as also the rising share of emerging economies. He said the policies need to be pursued to provide a stable macro economy, enhance growth and further inclusion. Prime Minister said many knowledgeable people have said that the twenty first century is and will be the Asian century and it is the ray of hope for global economic recovery.

Shri Modi said India has a special place in Asia and it has historically contributed to Asia in several ways. India has also shown that a large, diverse country can be managed in a way that can promote economic growth and maintain social stability. Prime Minister said corruption and interference in the decisions of banks and regulators are now things of the past. He said government has increased investment in the rural and agriculture sector and aims to double farmer incomes. Shri Modi said India has never undervalued its exchange rate to boost trade and signaled that the country would never join other countries in pushing their currencies lower. He said that government never tried to gain in trade at the expense of its partners and does not follow beggar thy neighbour macroeconomic policies. He said India is therefore, good Asian and good economic citizen and a source of demand to the trading partners. India and the IMF are organizing a three-day conference on the theme of 'Advancing Asia' in New Delhi.

National Food Security Act -2013

MP requests GoI to conduct fresh survey to identify more beneficiaries in Isles

Port Blair, March 13 The Member of Parliament, Shri Bishnu Pada Ray has requested the Govt of India for conducting fresh survey to cover at least 75% population (50% population in rural and urban area) positively under the National Food Security Act. He further desired for adopting better procedure and eligibility criteria (as being adopted in other states) to identify more beneficiaries under draft A&N Islands Food Security Rules, 2016 under the National Food Security Act, 2013. Taking up the matter during Zero hour in Parliament on March 11, 2016, the Member of Parliament stated that as per the Government figure, the number of families covered under the National Food Security Act, 2013 in rural area is 24.94% and in urban area it is 1.70% of the total population of A&N Islands which is not correct. This figure may be more as other states have covered 70 to 80 percent of their population under Food Security Act. Due to improper survey at that point of time, the percentage of population under the Act is less than the actual number of intended beneficiaries, the MP said. The Member of Parliament further mentioned that the income criteria of Rs. one lakh is very less and apart from this, there are various low paid workers who should be covered. The honorarium prescribed for the President and Members of the District Forum is also very less which has to be enhanced, a communication from MP Bhawan received here said.

A number of cases have been registered in PS Aberdeen, PS Pahargaon, PS Chatham and some other police stations of A & N Islands on the complaints of the cheated public and investigation is in progress.

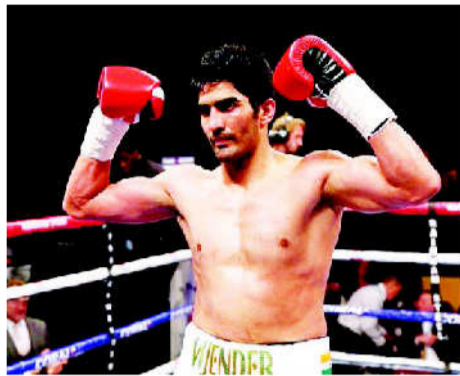

The fraudsters are adopting several modus operandi. One is to first make a call to anybody's mobile introducing himself as Manager or ATM official of a reputed bank and asking for the person's ATM card no. and PIN. It is to be noted that Banks never ask any such information from their customers through phone or email. But those people who do not pay attention to these advisories issued by the banks, fall prey to the fraud callers. On revealing the info, the caller asks the victim to switch off the mobile for some time so that a new PIN would be received. On switching it on after some time, the victim finds that money has been

Vijender Singh clinches fourth successive professional win

Liverpool, Mar 13
There was no stopping Indian boxing star Vijender Singh as he notched up his fourth successive knockout professional win by pummeling Hungary's Alexander Horvath in less than three rounds on Saturday. Vijender had little trouble outpunching his opponent, who failed to get up after being thrown off balance by his body blows in the third round. "I don't know what happened to him, I think he was looking to get out by making an excuse. It's a good start to the year for me. I am happy to register another knockout win. I think this is a great start for me looking ahead to my WBO Asia title bout in India (on June 11) this year," Vijender said after the bout. "My target is to win the Asia title in front of my home crowd and looking forward to register two more knockout wins in April before I play in India," he added. The 30-year-old Indian, who went into contest on the back of three successive knockout triumphs, continued to be a cut above his rivals, who talk big but deliver little inside the ring.

India falls just short in tall chase

Mumbai, Mar 13
The calendar has changed. So has the format and India's bowling attack after being pounded for 400-plus total in an ODI last October. Still, South Africa continued its merrymaking at Wankhede Stadium by warming up to the World Twenty20 by piling on a huge total on Saturday. The India batsmen eventually ended up four runs short of the Proteas' 196 for nine but India's middle order gave lot of reasons to smile about not just for the dressing room (the dug outs are still not in place at the Wankhede) but even for a near-capacity fans who thronged the stadium. The stupendous turnout was understandable since India will feature in the marquee event in Mumbai only if it makes the knockouts. It turned out to be a left-handers' night. First it was the turn of Quinton de Kock and Jean-Paul Duminy, who added 77 runs in 49 balls for the third wicket before the former retired after scoring a stylish fifty to give the lower order batsmen a look in. Later in the night, it was the turn of India's lefty duo of Shikhar Dhawan and Suresh Raina. The duo restored India's innings after Rohit Sharma, Virat Kohli and Ajinkya Rahane failed to make an impact. Their 94-run association off 59 balls ended when both the batsmen retired at the end of the 16th over to let Mahendra Singh Dhoni and Yuvraj Singh wage their handle for four overs. With 55 runs required to win, the old warhorses revived the memories of the 2011 World Cup final at the same time during their blitzkrieg 24-ball 51 association. Dhoni, who sent Dale Steyn packing with a pull that landed in the second tier over fine leg in the 18th over, had an opportunity to seal the game with a six off the last over. But Chris Morris held his nerves to get South Africa's campaign off to a good start. The scores: South Africa 196 for nine in 20 overs (Jean-Paul Duminy 67, Quinton de Kock 56 ret'd., Hardik Pandya three for 37, Jasprit Bumrah two for 51) bt India 192 for five in 20 overs (Shikhar Dhawan 73 ret'd., Suresh Raina 41 ret'd., Mahendra Singh Dhoni 31 not out).

Thailand most preferred Asian tourist spot by Indians in 2015

Mumbai, Mar 13
Indians mostly preferred short haul destinations in Asia while planning overseas trips last year, with Thailand emerging as the favourite destination, a recent survey showed. "Short-haul destinations in Asia were preferred by Indian travellers in 2015. This was mainly due to 13 long weekends that influenced Indian travellers' choices to opt for short-haul holiday destinations," according to latest Hotel Price Index (HPI) report of Hotels.Com. Thailand emerged as the most chosen destination among Indian globetrotters in 2015, it said. The data is drawn from bookings made at thousands of hotels worldwide listed on Hotels.Com website. Bangkok topped the list of most preferred international destination by Indians in 2015 as it replaced Dubai which was at the second spot. Singapore and London continue to remain the perennial favourite for Indians which were at the third and fourth positions, respectively. The new entrant on the list includes Bali at the 10th place, followed by Phuket, Paris, Hong Kong and New York at ninth, eighth, seventh and sixth positions, respectively. Meanwhile, Delhi and Mumbai continue to be at number one and two positions, respectively, for Indians travelling within the country in 2015 akin to a year back. Hyderabad switched places with pink city Jaipur (Rajasthan) bagging the sixth position in 2015 as compared to a year ago. Destinations such as Goa, Bengaluru and Chennai retained third, fourth and fifth positions, respectively.

withdrawn from his or her account. The fraud caller is not traceable thereafter. Some time, the fraudster would use several tactics to know the customer's PIN such as by first giving a number and asking the customer to subtract that from his PIN and then tell him the final value. The cheat can then easily calculate the PIN and withdraw money. In certain cases, the complainants have taken part in TV game shows and they received calls from some number saying that they have won the game.

The prize money or vehicle would be given to them after the customer deposits a certain amount in a bank account no, the caller tells. Allured by this, the victim deposits the money after which the caller becomes untraceable.

Similarly, people have fallen victim to allurements through phone calls, SMS, emails wherein the recipient is told to deposit some money in order to receive some 'prize' 'lottery' or 'cash reward'. The recipients are asked to forward their names, addresses and photographs etc. to an email id specified in the SMS and then to deposit cash in some specified Bank account number.

The victim is trapped in a phased manner over a period of time and before he comes to realize that he has lost his hard earned money to the fraudsters, the culprits are untraceable and the money not recoverable. The first and foremost action expected of the receiver is to delete such a message as soon as it arrives in the inbox. Public should remain alert to such fake calls for ATM nos. or PIN, alluring messages, e-mails or phone calls and not fall into such traps in order to protect themselves from being cheated.

STAY ALERT NOT TO GET DUPED

- Do not disclose Bank ATM Card no. or PIN details to anyone. Banks never ask customers over phone or through e-mail or SMS for such details.
- Do not respond to any e-mail seeking your personal details, bank account number, credit/debit card details etc.
- Do not pay heed to alluring messages like "You have won prizes, lotteries & cash rewards"... etc.
- Sometimes, the sender of the message want you to call a particular number like WINNER! 9495504389 is chosen for $ 2500 CASH prize, call +43820956174 now". If this number is called, huge amount gets deducted from the balance in the mobile connection.
- Instance of subscribes receiving missed calls from suspicious looking numbers starting from +375, +22455 or a few digits and those who tried to call back on these numbers were charged a whopping Rs. 45 per minute.
- Do not call back on such numbers.
