Rajya Sabha Chairman rejects impeachment notice against CJI

New Delhi, Apr 23
In a blow to the opposition parties led by Congress, the Vice President of India and Chairman of Rajya Sabha Shri M Venkaiah Naidu rejected the notice for motion of impeachment of Chief Justice of India, Dipak Misra. Shri Naidu cited lack of merit in the charges leveled by the opposition after deliberating on all the aspects of the notice with legal and constitution experts. Notice was moved by 64 sitting members from 7 opposition parties. Rajya Sabha Chairman Shri M Venkaiah Naidu has listed reasons for rejecting the notice given by opposition parties led by the Congress for impeachment of CJI Dipak Misra primarily citing lack of any substantial merit in it. In a detailed 10 page order, Shri Naidu stated that he held extensive consultations with top legal and constitutional experts on the matter before taking the decision. In the order, Shri Naidu also states that he had detailed discussion with Attorney General as well as other legal experts to consider all the charges made by the opposition members and concluded that the motion does not deserve to be admitted. He cited article 124(4) of the constitution which says that for such motion to be submitted proved misbehaviour and incapacity has to be proved. In absence of creditable and verifiable information which gives an indication of misbehaviour or incapacity, the motion was not considered. Further the order comes down hard on the opposition members who have moved the notice. Shri Naidu observed that the opposition members have certain words and phrases which imply that even they were not sure of the charges against the CJI. Rejecting the motion as neither desirable nor proper, the Chairman of Rajya Sabha also disapproved of the conduct of the opposition who addressed a press conference after submitting the notice in contravention of said rules and regulations.
