Sri Vijaya Puram, Nov. 26

On the occasion of National Milk Day 2026, the Hon'ble Lieutenant Governor of Andaman and Nicobar Islands, Dr. Dinesh Sharma Ji, today inaugurated the Model Fodder Tree Farm at Dollygunj and inspected the modern techniques and innovations in fodder production developed at the farm. The farm has been developed over an area of 1.89 acres (7,650 square metres). It features 16 species of fodder trees and 06 species of fodder grasses suited to the local agro-climatic conditions. Azolla and hydroponic fodder have also been demonstrated as alternative animal feed. Appreciating these innovations, the Hon'ble Lieutenant Governor emphasised their wider publicity and dissemination to ensure the availability of fodder not only for cows but also for buffaloes, goats and other livestock.

Thereafter, the Hon'ble Lieutenant Governor attended the National Milk Day celebrations organised at the auditorium of Tagore Govt. College of Education, Sri Vijaya Puram. The programme commenced with the lighting of the ceremonial lamp. On the occasion, he released the Cattle Breeding Policy and launched dairy products developed by ANIIDCO, namely buttermilk, khoya and three varieties of lassi. He also encouraged five livestock farmers by distributing animal nutrition kits, five livestock farmers with livestock insurance certificates under the National Livestock Mission, and ten Pashu Sakhis with certificates, books and bags.

In his address, the Hon'ble Lieutenant Governor appreciated the efforts of the Department of Animal Husbandry and Veterinary Services in conserving indigenous cattle, improving breeds and increasing milk production despite limited resources and geographical challenges. He stated that, considering the limited availability of fodder resources and dependence on milk supplies from the mainland, increasing local milk production and achieving self-reliance in the dairy sector are essential.

Appreciating the work of Pashu Sakhis, the Hon'ble Lieutenant Governor emphasised the need for them to visit villages and provide livestock farmers with guidance on animal care, first aid and various aspects of animal husbandry. He directed that their work be monitored regularly and suggested developing an online portal where Pashu Sakhis could upload details of their field visits and services provided, along with photographs. The Hon'ble Lieutenant Governor informed that under the scheme, Pashu Sakhis are being paid an honorarium of Rs. 3,000 per month and approximately 60 per cent of the women have been trained.

farmers, the Hon'ble Lieutenant Governor stated that 85 per cent of the insurance premium is borne by the Government, while livestock farmers are required to contribute only 15 per cent. He appealed to all livestock farmers to avail themselves of the benefits of this scheme.

The Hon'ble Lieutenant Governor referred to the proposed initiative to bring around 500 cattle of improved breeds such as Sahiwal and Gir and emphasised scientific research for breed improvement and enhancement of milk production. He appreciated the efforts of the Department towards achieving the target of 12 to 14 litres of milk production per cattle per day. Appreciating the development of local dairy products such as buttermilk, khoya and lassi by ANIIDCO, he cited the examples of Gujarat's Amul and Banaskantha Dairy models and stated that milk processing and value-added products would promote employment and economic activities.

The Hon'ble Lieutenant Governor suggested exploring possibilities of manufacturing tiles, roofing tiles and other useful products from cow dung, collecting cow urine and generating energy through biogas plants, so that additional income could be generated for livestock farmers and self-employment opportunities could be created in rural areas. Expressing concern over the practice of abandoning cattle on roads after they stop yielding milk, the Hon'ble Lieutenant Governor emphasised ensuring the tagging of animals and identification of their owners, along with taking necessary action as per the rules.

The Hon'ble Lieutenant Governor directed the removal of encroachments from grazing lands and the development of adequate pastures for livestock. Citing the example of the 65-acre 'Kanha Upvan', developed during his tenure as Mayor in Lucknow, he suggested that a similar arrangement could be developed in accordance with local conditions at the Gram Panchayat level or through collective efforts of two to three villages. Expressing concern over the declining agricultural area in the Islands, he stressed the need to protect the remaining agricultural land.

The Hon'ble Lieutenant Governor appealed to farmers to cultivate fruits, vegetables and food grains along with commercial crops, so that dependence on the mainland for food items could be reduced and the availability of nutritious food locally could be enhanced. He directed the officers to ensure the continuous implementation of schemes and innovations, strengthen departmental coordination and effectively monitor the ongoing activities.

At the conclusion, he appreciated the efforts of the officers and staff of the Department of Animal Husbandry and Veterinary Services, livestock farmers and Pashu Sakhis and expressed confidence that, through modern technology, improved veterinary services and community participation, the Andaman and Nicobar Islands would emerge as a model in the field of Animal Husbandry and Dairy Development.

The facilities developed at Joggers Park convey the message that this place is for all citizens, without any discrimination.

The Hon'ble Lieutenant Governor expressed happiness that this park is attracting hundreds of people every day and that the number of visitors exceeds 500 during the busy evening hours.
