LG OUTLINES PRIORITIES

'Power and tourism are my two priority sectors for development in isles'

Port Blair, Aug 29 "Power and tourism are the two sectors with immense growth potentials and are in my priority list for development in these Islands", said the Lt Governor of A&N Islands, Prof. Jagdish Mukhi in his maiden interview with Senior Journalist and Producer of "Namo Impact"-Sarva Dharma Sangam TV, Shri Atul Singhal, shortly after assuming the Office of the Lt Governor of the UT. Outlining his focussed areas for development, he thanked the Hon'ble Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi for giving him the opportunity to serve these Islands. "There is immense scope of development and these Islands fair better from other parts of the country in terms of performance", he said.

As regard tourism sector, the Lt. Governor said these Islands can be developed as most sought after tourism destinations. Maldives are much popular in terms of tourist destination in the world in comparison to Port Blair, which needs to be developed on a faster pace. For tourism to be developed, connectivity is essential. The undersea cable project is at advanced stage while the air route and sea route connectivity is also essential for development of tourism in A&N Islands. "If we want to develop these Islands on the lines of Maldives, we will have to provide all these facilities", he observed. Turning to power, the Lt. Governor said power generation in A&N Islands, by diesel is costlier and also contributes to pollution. This has to be replaced by developing more solar energy/power. The vast coastline in these Islands also provides ample scope for developing wind energy. "My priority will be to upgrade power generation by propagating solar and wind energy in these Islands", he said and added that tourists visit these Islands from different countries to enjoy the pollution free atmosphere and clean & green environment existing here. "If we stick to diesel generated power system, it will only contribute to pollution. Therefore, it will be my first priority to increase power generation with concerted efforts on green energy", he said. On improving the mobile and internet connectivity, the Lt. Governor said much progress has been made towards improvement in the connectivity, and the same will continue in future. Once the undersea cable connecting Chennai and Andaman & Nicobar Islands becomes operational, the connectivity problems in these Islands will be solved forever. On enhancing the revenue generation, he said we should not completely depend on Central Govt. for funds but should become self reliant by increasing our revenue, and utilizing our resources in a planned manner. Referring to the contributions of A&N Islands in the freedom struggle of the country, he said the supreme sacrifice made by the freedom fighters in the Cellular Jail is really an inspiration for the whole country. Netaji Subhash Chandra Bose and Veer Savarkar are looked upon with reverence by the Islanders. There are many points in the Cellular Jail which the tourists look with awe when they visit the historical monument. "Every tourist must visit Cellular Jail. Directions have been given to further improve the Sound & Light Show at the Cellular Jail. The dialogue and impression of the Sound & Light Show will be enhanced by increasing our revenue, and utilizing our resources in a

and AH&VS for registration of these two breeds was indeed a long term work. He said, with the registration of these two indigenous breed (goat & pig), specific funds for propagation can be obtained from National Livestock Mission. He further informed that CIARI and AH&VS have set up small units of Teresa goat & Nicobar Pig for conservation and propagation purpose. He informed that good qualities found in Teresa goat and Nicobar pig will be also exploited for improving the quality of native breeds as well as mainland breeds while cross breeding will also be made to gauge the quality. This, he said, will enable Islanders get the breeds from the farm at premium price.

Dr. Jai Sunder, Principal Scientist, ASD through a power point presentation elaborated on the characteristics of Teresa goat, which he said is mainly found in Teresa Island, Nancowrie Tehsil, Nicobar District. Teresa goats are generally tall, sturdy, brownish or dark tan or black or white in colour with white and black patches. They have black hair on dorsal midline up to the tail with black clouded muzzle, eyelids and hoofs. They possess a peculiar white patch/line starting from inner canthus of both eyes or from eye brows extending up to the nostrils or mouth. Their height ranges from 24 to 27 inches and weights about 60-65 kg in four years. They feed on coconut leaves, leaves of bread fruit etc. Their approximate population stands at 7721. They are indigenous goat breed maintained by Nicobar tribal farmers. An average flock of 6 nos. of Teresa goats is maintained by individual tribal family of Nicobar group of Islands. The Department of AH&VS and CIARI, Port Blair maintains and propagate the pure germplasm of Teresa goat.

Explaining about the indigenous Nicobar Pigs, Dr. M.S.Kundu, Principal Scientist, ASD, ICAR-CIARI said the Nicobar pigs are a family asset of the nicobari tribe and are reared since time immemorial. The Nicobar pigs are highly suitable for free range system under coconut feeding. They are sturdy and short with long body and red-brown, blackish brown and fawn skin colour. They have marked bristle crest on the back of the pig extending from mid head/shoulder to base of the tail. They have good fostering ability with less pre weaning mortality. The adult castrated male and female weighs about 100 to 150 kg. They thrive under plantation based low input production system of the Nicobar tribes. They are reared mostly for meat while their thick hair can also be used for making brushes. Their sexual maturity comes at 5 months unlike other pigs.

In his speech, Dr. A. Kundu, Head Animal Science Division said of the 160 breeds registered by ICAR-National Bureau of Animal Genetic Resources, two are from the A&N Islands. He said the aim of registration of these breeds is to help in inventorization, conservation and sustainable utilization of animal genetic resources of the country adding that efforts will be made to register more number of indigenous breeds available in A&N Islands.
