Vice-President addresses 30th Convocation of Pondicherry University

Exhorts graduating students to shoulder the responsibility of nation-building & describes them as architects of Viksit Bharat @2047

Puducherry, Dec. 29

The Vice-President of India, Shri C. P. Radhakrishnan, addressed the 30th Convocation of Pondicherry University today and exhorted graduating students to shoulder the responsibility of nation-building, describing them as the architects of Viksit Bharat @2047.

Congratulating the graduating students, the Vice-President said that a convocation is not merely a celebration of academic success, but a solemn moment marking the transition to greater responsibility. He reminded the graduates that their degrees carry with them a duty to apply cultural richness and knowledge for the progress of society and the nation.

Referring to Puducherry as a land of cultural richness and spiritual heritage, the Vice-President recalled the lasting influence of great poets and visionaries such as Subramania Bharathi, Bharathidasan, and Sri Aurobindo. He noted that Sri Aurobindo's philosophy continues to guide higher education by integrating knowledge, spirituality, and action, while nurturing minds capable of contributing to national progress and global harmony.

The Vice-President congratulated Pondicherry University on securing the prestigious A+ grade from NAAC in its fifth cycle of assessment, and praised its global engagement, including 113 Memoranda of Understanding with national and international institutions. He also lauded the achievement of 28 faculty members being featured in Stanford University's World's Top 2% Scientists List, calling it a testament to the university's academic excellence.

Highlighting India's journey towards Viksit Bharat @2047, he said the vision articulated by Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi provides a comprehensive roadmap for building a prosperous, inclusive, and developed India. He emphasized that the National Education Policy 2020 marks a paradigm shift from rote memorization to critical thinking, from rigid disciplines to multidisciplinary learning, and from exam-centric approaches to holistic development and urged graduates to become ambassadors of its spirit.

The Vice-President also highlighted key initiatives of the Ministry of Education such as PM-USHA, SWAYAM, DIKSHA, and the National Digital Library, noting that these initiatives democratize access to quality education and reflect the belief that education must be a right for all, not a privilege for a few.

Cautioning students about the rapid transformation of the world through artificial intelligence, automation, biotechnology, and digital connectivity, he called for a balanced approach that combines technological enthusiasm with ethical vigilance. He also urged the youth to firmly say "No to Drugs" and encourage their peers to do the same.

Drawing from the ancient Tamil text Naladiyar, the Vice-President reminded students that while knowledge is limitless, the time to acquire it is limited. He urged graduates to discern and absorb what is valuable, ethical, and meaningful from the vast ocean of information.

He concluded by urging graduates to ensure that their education shapes them into good human beings, responsible citizens, and socially conscious professionals, where knowledge is guided by humility, technology by human values, and success by social responsibility.

residents, families, children, tourists and passionate animal lovers thronging the venue to celebrate the unbreakable bond between humans and their furry companions.

The show was inaugurated by the guest of honour, Ms Pallavi Sarkar, IAS, Secretary (AH&VS). The event began with an impressive demonstration by the highly trained dogs of the A&N Police Department and Forest Department, showcasing their discipline, obedience and remarkable skills in detection and protection duties. The audience erupted in applause as these four-legged heroes performed flawlessly, highlighting the vital role well-trained dogs play in public safety and conservation efforts across the Islands.

A total of 55 delightful pets then took centre stage across four categories, showcasing incredible diversity and charm. The large breed segment featured 26 magnificent participants including Labrador, German Shepherd, Chippiparai, Golden Retriever, Siberian Husky, American Bully and Dogo Argentino, while the small breed category charmed everyone with 17 adorable entries such as Indian Spitz, Pomeranian, Shih Tzu and Lhasa Apso. Adding immense heart to the show were six lovable local mongrel (desi) dogs and six elegant cats, whose natural grace and affectionate nature won thunderous applause and reminded everyone that true companionship needs no pedigree.

The pets were judged by a distinguished panel comprising Dr. Amal Kanti Rai, Retd. Senior Veterinary Officer; Dr. K Geeta Gladson, Veterinary Officer at Friendcoes-SECA NGO; and Dr. K P Ummer, Retd. Senior Veterinary Officer.

After meticulous judging based on health, temperament, grooming and overall personality, prizes were distributed by Ms Pallavi Sarkar, IAS, Secretary (AH&VS), Smti Niharika Bhatt, IPS, Superintendent of Police, A&N Police, Dr. Jai Sunder, Director, ICAR-Central Island Agricultural Research Institute (CIARI), and Dr. A K Bardhan, Retd. Senior Veterinary Officer. Amid great

Beyond the glamour and excitement, the Pet Show carried a powerful social message aligned with the Department's ongoing campaigns. It strongly advocated regular anti-rabies vaccination, compulsory sterilization under the Animal Birth Control (ABC) programme, and humane treatment of all animals. Particular emphasis was placed on adopting sturdy, intelligent and climate-adapted Indian and mongrel breeds instead of purchasing expensive foreign varieties and later abandoning unwanted litters. These desi dogs, often overlooked, make exceptional companions and deserve loving homes just as much as any purebred.

The Department of Animal Husbandry & Veterinary Services has once again appealed to all residents and visitors to adopt homeless animals from streets or shelters, sterilise and vaccinate their pets without fail, and join hands in building a truly compassionate, rabies-free and harmonious environment for every living being in these pristine Islands, a press release from Department of AH&VS said.

Steps Taken to Strengthen Port Operations: Tender Floated for Tug Services

The Ports of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands handle Passenger Vessels, Cargo Ships, Inter-Island Ferries and visiting Naval and Coast Guard Vessels. Tugs play a critical role in ensuring safe, efficient and reliable port operations in the Andaman and Nicobar Islands, owing to the unique geographical, environmental and operational conditions of the region.

Given the remoteness of the Islands from the mainland, uninterrupted port operations are vital for the movement of essential commodities, fuel, construction material and emergency supplies. In view of the increasing maritime traffic and strategic importance of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands, adequate tug availability is essential for maintaining operational efficiency, safety and continuity of port services. At present, Port Operations are supported by one departmental Tug, with additional assistance from Naval Tugs resulting in operational constraints. There has been a persistent demand from Port users for augmentation of Tug services at the Ports of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

Accordingly, Port Management Board, Andaman and Nicobar Islands, has floated a tender for the Supply, Manning, Operation and Maintenance of one Tug for a period of three (03) years. The proposed engagement of an additional Tug is intended to strengthen Port operational capacity, reduce vessel waiting time and enhance overall service delivery.

The tender has been floated in accordance with established procurement procedures and is available on the e-Procurement portals www.eprocure.andamannicobar.gov.in and www.eprocure.gov.in. The scheduled date of opening of bids is 10.01.2026.

The Port Management Board remains committed to ensuring safe, reliable and efficient Port Operations and continue to take necessary measures to address operational requirements in a timely manner.

Dear Mummy

For you, the classroom was never just a workplace, it was a place of purpose and passion. Through long days and quiet struggles, you poured your heart into guiding young minds, leaving marks far deeper than grades or certificates. As this chapter closes, the blackboard fades and the school bell rings one last time, yet the lessons you gave will live on in countless lives. With deep respect, pride, and love, we celebrate your remarkable journey.

Happy retirement, your impact will never fade.
