PM addresses programme marking Vigilance Awareness Week

No corrupt person should get political-social support: PM

Many times corrupt people are glorified in spite of being jailed even after being proven to be corrupt. This situation is not good for Indian society

New Delhi, Nov. 3 (PIB)

The Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi addressed the programme marking Vigilance Awareness Week of Central Vigilance Commission (CVC) in Vigyan Bhawan, New Delhi today and launched the new Complaint Management System portal of the CVC. Addressing the gathering, the Prime Minister said that Vigilance Awareness Week began with the birth anniversary of Sardar Patel. "The entire life of Sardar Patel was dedicated to honesty, transparency and the building of a public service system based on these values", he said. The Prime Minister remarked that the campaign revolving around awareness and alertness is based on these principles. He observed that the campaign of Vigilance Awareness Week is taking place to realise the dreams and aspirations of a corruption-free India and underlined its importance in the lives of every citizen.

The Prime Minister said, for a developed India, trust and credibility are critical and people's trust in the Government enhances people's self-confidence. Referring to his clarion call from the ramparts of Red Fort for a decisive battle against corruption, the Prime Minister pointed out two key reasons for corruption and hindering people's progress i.e. lack of amenities and unnecessary pressure from the Government. He said, for a very long time, this absence of amenities and opportunity was deliberately kept alive and a gap was allowed to widen leading to an unhealthy competition of a zero-sum race. This race fed the ecosystem of corruption. Corruption created by this scarcity affects the poor and middle classes the most. "If the poor and middle class spend their energy to arrange for the basic amenities, then how will the country progress?" the Prime Minister asked. "That is why", the Prime Minister remarked "we are trying to change this system of scarcity and pressure for the last 8 years. The Government is trying to fill the gap between supply and demand. The three ways adopted to achieve this are advancement in technology, taking basic services to the saturation level, and finally heading towards atmanirbharta."

With regard to the use of technology, the Prime Minister mentioned linking PDS to technology and removing crores of fake beneficiaries and saving more than 2 lakh crore rupees from going to the wrong hands by adopting Direct Benefit Transfer (DBT). Similarly, the adoption of transparent digital transactions, and transparent Government procurement through GeM is making a huge difference.

Speaking on taking the basic facilities to the saturation level, the Prime Minister pointed out that reaching every eligible beneficiary of any Government scheme and achieving the goals of saturation puts an end to discrimination in society while eliminating the scope of corruption. Highlighting the principle of saturation that is adopted by the Government for the delivery of every scheme, the Prime Minister gave examples of water connections, pucca houses, electricity connections and gas connections.

Terming CVC an institution that encourages everyone's efforts to ensure transparency, the Prime Minister recalled his request last time for 'preventive vigilance' and praised the efforts of CVC in that direction. He also asked the vigilance community to think about modernising their audits and inspections. "The will which the Government is showing against corruption, the same will is necessary to be seen in all the Departments as well. For a developed India, we have to develop such an administrative ecosystem, which has zero tolerance on corruption", he said.

The Prime Minister asked for a system where corruption-related disciplinary proceedings are completed in time-bound mission mode. He also suggested continuous monitoring of criminal cases and asked to devise a way of ranking Departments on the basis of pending corruption cases and publishing the related reports on a monthly or quarterly basis. The Prime Minister also asked for streamlining of the vigilance clearance process with the help of technology. There is a need for auditing the data of public grievances so that we can go to the root causes of corruption in the concerned Department, the Prime Minister added.

The Prime Minister stressed the need to bring in common citizens in the work of keeping a vigil over corruption. "No matter how powerful the corrupt may be, they should not be saved under any circumstances, it is the responsibility of organisations like you. No corrupt person should get political-social support, every corrupt person should be put in the dock by the society, it is also necessary to create this environment", he said. Touching upon a worrying trend, the Prime Minister said "We have seen that many times the corrupt people are glorified in spite of being jailed even after being proven to be corrupt. This situation is not good for Indian society. Even today, some people give arguments in favour of the corrupt who have been found guilty. It is very necessary for such people, such forces to be made aware of their duty by society. In this also concrete action taken by your Department has a big role."
