

President celebrates Raksha Bandhan with Nursing Professionals Describes nurses as saviours who not only saves lives but also risks their lives in line of duty

New Delhi, Aug 3 (PIB)

The President of India, Shri Ram Nath Kovind, celebrated Raksha Bandhan with members of the nursing community at the Rashtrapati Bhavan today. Those who met and conveyed Rakhi greetings to the President included representatives of the Trained Nurses' Association of India, the Military Nursing Service and the President's Estate Clinic.

During a brief interactive session, the nurses offered rakhis to the President and also narrated their experience in dealing with the COVID-19 pandemic. The President felicitated them and described them as saviours who are not only saving lives but also risking their own lives in the line of duty. Such commitment to duty earns respect for nurses who have been performing the role of front-line COVID warriors, he said.

Traditionally, on the day of the festival of Raksha Bandhan, sisters seek their brothers' protection to keep them from harm's way, the President said, adding that in case of nurses, it is they who through their dedication and commitment extend a helping hand to their brothers and ensure protection for all people.

Referring to the two members of the Military Nursing Service (MNS) who had tested COVID-19 positive while dealing with patients but recovered soon and resumed their duty with renewed vigour, the President thanked the entire nursing fraternity for their sincere dedication and services to fellow citizens during the pandemic. He also conveyed his best wishes to the entire nursing community on the occasion of Raksha Bandhan.

People of all ages can be infected with the coronavirus (nCoV-19) hence everyone should maintain hygiene and social distancing by not going out of house unnecessarily, not undertaking non-essential travel and keeping away from people who are sick

Elderly people and people with pre-existing medical conditions (such as asthma, diabetes, heart disease) are more vulnerable to the virus infection. So to reduce their risk of getting sick, they should -

- Stay at home.
- Wash their hands often.
- Take everyday precautions to keep space between themselves and others (stay 6 feet away, which is about two arms lengths) - especially keep away from people who are sick.

1 During pregnancy, your immune system isn't as quick to respond to illnesses. This may increase your risk of getting sick with viruses, like COVID-19.

2 Spread of COVID-19 occurs mainly when a person infected with the virus coughs or sneezes. To protect yourself from the virus, take these steps:

- Wash your hands regularly with soap and water
- Limit or avoid contact with people who are sick
- Clean and disinfect objects you touch regularly
- Try not to touch your eyes, nose or mouth

3 If you have any of these symptoms, call your health care provider right away:

- Fever
- Cough
- Shortness of breath
