Development of Fish Landing Centres in A&N Islands

12 Fish Landing Centres made functional; 5 to be completed by March 2020

Port Blair, Jan. 5

With a view to provide massive infrastructural boost to the fisheries sector, the A&N Administration has initiated the process of development of Fish Landing Centres at various locations in A&N Islands for facilitating organized fishing/fish landing in hygienic conditions, safe berthing of fishing crafts, marketing, value addition and undertaking various activities like repairing of fishing crafts and gears. The suitable locations for establishment of Fish Landing Centres in A&N Islands were identified through survey/field studies conducted by Central Institute of Coastal Engineering for Fishery, Bangalore under Ministry of Agriculture, GoI.

Thereafter, a Master Plan in this regard was prepared by Ministry of Agriculture, for Development of 19 Fish Landing Centres in A&N Islands, for which the Administration has sanctioned a budget of Rs. 72 crores for the construction work to be taken up by the Andaman Lakshadweep Harbour Works (ALHW) in phases.

In first phase, the Fish Landing Centre at Junglight was completed in 2007. Thereafter, in second phase, the work of 4 Fish Landing Centres at Diglipur, Mayabunder, Rangat Bay and Yerrata was completed during 2012-13. In third phase, 14 Fish Landing Centres one each at Campbell Bay, Kamorta, Katchal, Teressa, Car Nicobar, Hut Bay, V.K. Pur (Little Andaman), Panighat,
