Yet another feather in the cap for A&N Islands

GB Pant Hospital, Port Blair secures 69th position amongst the Best Hospitals in India

Port Blair, March 7

Ever since its inception, G B Pant Hospital, in the capital city of Andaman and Nicobar Islands has been in the reckoning as one of the best managed hospitals in the country. Despite being located in one of the remotest corners of the country it has achieved one after another important milestone by virtue of relentless efforts that every stakeholder from Doctors, Nurses, Paramedics, Technicians to even the ground-level workers, responsible for maintaining the cleanliness in and around the Hospital has taken to achieve this coveted status.

Its trajectory from a Camp Hospital to a District Hospital and then to a Referral Hospital and finally to a full-fledged Medical College Hospital with a number of state-of-the-art equipment have been no less than an enviable one. Now this hospital takes pleasure in declaring its workforce consisting of a number of Super-Specialists namely Cardiologist, Nephrologist, Pediatric Surgeon in addition to a galaxy of highly dedicated Specialists and Medical Officers who have been working day and night relentlessly to add to the glory of this Institute. The role of the A & N Administration, spearheaded by none other than the successive Hon'ble Lieutenant Governors and actively facilitated by a host of committed Secretaries taking the reign of the Department of Health in succession, has been exemplary one. But for their personal commitments and untiring efforts this meteoric success would not have been feasible.

As an acknowledgement of these phenomenal changes that this G B Pant Hospital has acquired over the years and more so in the recent past, the Newsweek partnering with Statista Inc., a global data research firm, in its recent ranking of World's Best Hospital that covers 2000 hospitals world over which include USA, UK, Germany, Canada etc. including, of course, our own country i. e. India wherein the G B Pant Hospital, Port Blair has carved a niche of its own by its own merit, by securing the 69th position amongst the best hospitals in India, a not-so-small achievement by any account. After all, a hospital in one of the remotest Island territories, with a number of its inbuilt limitations, some are almost unsurmountable by virtue of its remoteness from the nearest mainland by as many as 1200 kilometers, could reach a distinction of this sort is by itself a phenomenal achievement.

The A & N Administration considers this as a recognition of its painstaking efforts and as an impetus for striving even harder to excel the track record further. The remarkable changes that the hospital has made over the years and strikingly so, only recently, while dealing with the deadly Corona Virus, must have played a pivotal role in its reckoning. Almost overnight the entire topography of the Hospital was changed not only to contain the spread of the disease, the most, but also to effectively treat the morbidly sick by a group of highly devoted physicians and critical care specialists, much to the satisfaction of the entire populace, and not to mention the media who too came in full steam praising for the dramatic changes made for the better.

Needless to say that the entire Administration came with its full strength and armors to the help of the Hospital Administration with a singular motive to save as many lives as it could from the attack of a hitherto unknown lethal virus.

No other State or Union Territory comes anywhere near when it comes to rendering efficient and well-orchestrated referral services like that of ours for the persons in distress. By dint of its vast network of health infrastructure all across the Islands spread over hundreds of kilometers no patient is left to fend for himself / herself regardless of the place he / she lives. When the distance is formidable even at the dead of night seriously ill patients are, at times, airlifted to the referral hospital braving heavy rains and inclement weather thereby allaying anxiety and apprehension of the near and dear ones and improving the chance of survival of the patient the best way possible. The alacrity and perfection with which such referral services are accomplished is something that can be regarded as a trendsetter for others to follow, a press release from Directorate of Health Services said.
